NORTH SHORE HEALTH DEPARTMENT

Did You Know?
The North Shore Health Department (NSHD) strives to promote and protect the health and safety of the people in the North Shore. One of the ways we protect the health and safety of our residents is by responding to communicable/infectious diseases. A communicable disease, also known as an infectious disease, is an illness transmitted through direct contact with an infected individual or animal – or indirectly through contact with a vector such as a mosquito, tick or plant, with blood or bodily fluids, or by breathing in an airborne virus or bacteria. As part of Wisconsin State Statute, 252 – Communicable Diseases, the NSHD is required to follow up and respond to all Category I and II diseases and conditions considered to have significant public health impact.

Some reportable diseases include Salmonella, E.coli, Mumps, Measles, Tuberculosis, etc. Some diseases are preventable through vaccination (i.e Measles, Mumps, Chicken Pox). If you are unsure if you have been vaccinated for a certain disease you can visit the Wisconsin Immunization Registry (WIR) at https://www.dhfswir.org to access your immunization record. If you do not have a record, your physician can order antibody testing to test for immunity. The presence of IgG antibodies means a person is immune through either vaccination or a past infection. The presence of IgM antibodies shows a current or recent infection.
If you are diagnosed with a reportable disease, your local health department may be contacting you. It is important to help stop the spread of germs by avoiding close contact with people when sick and staying home from work and school. This will help stop the spread of disease and also allow time for you to get well!

Last week at the health department

Over the past several weeks, staff have been involved in reviewing and updating the upcoming North Shore Community Health Survey. This is a collaborative effort funded by Aurora Health Care, Children’s Hospital of Wisconsin, Ascension, Froedtert Health, and Wheaton Franciscan Healthcare to survey Milwaukee County and North Shore residents about their general health and health behaviors. It is a telephone survey conducted every three years beginning in 2003. The survey results provide an overview of the varying health issues impacting North Shore residents. This information guides the health department’s community health initiatives. The telephone survey will be administered this spring with results published next fall.
